

Service Learning: Integrating community and classroom

Service Learning at EVMS integrates meaningful community service with structured learning and reflection experiences to enhance our student physicians' overall education. It is being there with real people in authentic contexts. It is a type of learning that students cannot experience in a classroom alone. Currently, there are six service pathways.

